NOTICE TO MEDINA COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

I have sufficient guarantee of money to pay for ballots and other election supplies for the Democratic Primary, and if the Precinct Chairmen of the various precincts of this county will get sufficient volunteers to assist him in holding the election, without pay, our primary elections will be held and our democratic voters will be given an opportunity to cast their votes.

The precinct chairmen of the county are as follows:

- | No. Precinct | Chairman |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| 1. North Hondo | V. P. King |
| 2. Quihi | Julius Brucks |
| 3. Dunlay | John Zuberbuehler |
| 4. Verdina | No election |
| 5. Rio Medina | H. J. Bippert |
| 6. Castroville | Wilfred Wernette |
| 7. D'Hanis | Victor Boog |
| 8. Haass | Henry Bendele |
| 9. Natalia | J. F. Riley |
| 10. East Devine | C. M. Thompson |
| 11. Black Creek | Sam Hardcastle |
| 12. Yancey | H. G. Wilson |
| 13. Cliff | R. O. Winkler |
| 14. Biry | Ed. Bader |
| 15. LaCoste | Paul Jungman |
| 16. South Hondo | Fletcher Davis |
| 17. Upper Hondo | Aug. A. Sprott |
| 18. Elstone | No election |
| 19. West Devine | E. L. Gordon |
| 20. Mico | Ed Seekatz |

If any of the above named chairmen fail to serve, or if there is a vacancy, any qualified voter competent to hold such election without pay, will be appointed by me presiding judge, and he (or she) may then select such assistants as needed, all of whom must be qualified voters.

The ballots and supplies will be sent out only upon request of the precinct chairmen, or some representative democrat of any of the precincts. Would appreciate it if arrangements can be made by the various precinct chairmen to have some one to call on me for the ballots and supplies, so that delivery of same may be made to each precinct where an election is desired to be held.

D. H. FLY,

Chairman of the Medina County Executive Committee.

P. S. In connection with the above wish to say that I think I have served my time as Chairman, and hence request that the voters select at the coming primary some other person as their chairman.

D. H. FLY.

Referring to the above, the tickets are already printed and any one wishing to cast an absentee ballot can secure the ticket from County Clerk S. A. Jungman. The supplies will be ready to go out to the various precincts by Monday, if not earlier. A sample ballot of the ticket as it will be voted in most of the precincts of the county appears elsewhere in this paper. The tickets used in the Devine Commissioner's precinct have the names of J. W. Roberson and Henry Crutchfield as candidates for Commissioner of Precinct 4 in addition to the other names appearing on the sample ticket.

Locally the election will be held at both Hondo boxes. Precinct Chairman Vernor King of No. 1 is arranging to hold the election for that precinct at the usual place in the district court room of the courthouse. The Hondo Lumber Company has generously offered the use of the front of its office for holding the primary on the Southside, Precinct No. 16, and as soon as about four more volunteers can be found to donate their services for the purpose arrangements will be complete for that precinct.

The democrats of every precinct should get busy and hold the primary as on the results of this and the runoff more than on the general election in November depends who will be our officials and what policies of government shall prevail.

District Judge and Mrs. L. J. J.
Brucks left last week for Chicago, Illinois, where they are visiting their sons, Louis and Charles, and their families.

Miss Jonell Rothe, who has been visiting at Corrigan came back with Mr. and Mrs. Reinhart Rothe and reports a wonderful time in the pin-y woods.

THE HIGHWAY BOND BUBBLE.

By Lynch Davidson.
TO THE NEWSPAPERS OF TEXAS AND THEIR READERS:

Below is given a statement showing what some of a few Counties in Texas would owe if the State Highway Bonds were issued and substituted for Road Bonds now due by the Counties listed.

COUNTY	POPULATION Last Census	Highway Road Bonds Due by These Counties	If State Bonds Issues Same Counties Would Owe
El Paso	131,092	$2,500,000.	$11,798,280.
Harris	355,927	4,000,000.	32,038,430.
Tarrant	220,000	5,753,160.	19,800,000.
McLennan	98,640	3,536,000.	8,877,600.
Bexar	294,627	1,887,200.	26,516,430.
Falls	36,217	706,000.	3,259,530.
Folk	16,784	600,000.	1,509,560.
Hunt	48,993	1,837,000.	4,409,370.
Taylor	48,000	1,300,000.	4,320,000.
Smith	53,000	1,054,000.	4,770,000.
McCullough	13,826	None	1,244,340.
Franklin	9,300	75,000.	827,000.

The effect of the State Highway Bond Bubble would be the same on every County in Texas, as outlined by the Counties listed above. If your County is not shown in the above tabulation you can easily get the figures by this very simple tabulation:

Proposed State Highway Bond Issue	$350,000,000.00
Interest on State Highway Bond Issue	180,000,000.00
Total debt incurred by issuing State Highway Bonds	$530,000,000.00

The last census gave Texas 5,800,000 people in round figures. By dividing the debt under the State Bond issue by the population of Texas, you will instantly see that it means a debt for every man, woman and child, every human being that breathes the breath of life in Texas, of approximately ninety dollars each. Multiply the population in your County by ninety dollars and you will find out just what part of the State Highway Bond issue you would have to pay if these bonds were issued.

If you are against the State Highway Bond Issue, vote against Ross Sterling and Tom Love. If you are for it, vote for either one of them. For many of the Counties, owing no bonds, it would be a monstrous wrong imposed on them to load them up with the State Highway Bond Issue. Take the case of McCullough County, as shown above, for instance. It owes nothing, but if the State Highway Bond Bubble is adopted, McCullough County would owe $1,244,000. The State Highway Bond Bubble would take $10,000,000. annually away from the school fund and property taxes would have to be raised to provide for our schools.

The last census gave Medina County a population of 13,986. The last financial statement of the county shows a road-bond and road-warrant indebtedness for the county and its precincts of $794,500.00, or a per capita road indebtedness of approximately $60.00.

Following Mr. Davidson's line of reasoning, if our population of 13,986 swaps off its present road indebtedness of $60.00 per capita for Mr. Sterling's $90.00 per capita, instead of owing only $794,500.00, as at present, for roads, we will owe, as our prorata of the state bonded indebtedness, $1,258,740.

This would be a rather bad swap for Medina County.

Then, too, it is proposed under the Sterling plan, as we understand it, not to pay back to the county all the county owes for roads, but only such part as the county has paid out for "State designated" roads.

So when we deduct from our road indebtedness all that has been spent on lateral or county roads and leave only what the county spent, along with the State and Federal help, on the highways, it will be seen that the county can claim a refund of only a small proportion of its road indebtedness.

When all the incidental cost of the red tape that will be involved in making the change is paid the county will have very little to expect as a refund.

So Mr. Sterling's sucker-bait, when examined closely, is not big enough to even hide the hook that's in it.

Better put a quietus on this scheme to build tourist speedways at the expense of the taxpayers now by defeating the ambitions of the men who propose it—Sterling and Love!

SKATING RINK TO OPEN HERE.

The Dinkard's Roller Rink has moved to Hondo from Del Rio and will open on the plaza this week. If nothing interrupts operations, the rink will open Friday night, July 18.

Although this is the first time the Dinkard Company has played Hondo, it is not unknown to local people.
While in Sabinal earlier in the year, the Coaster people listed many of Hondo's social set as their friends and visitors.

The management promises to furnish the same high class of entertainment as they have elsewhere and while for the having of fun by everyone will not tolerate roughness or ungentlemanly conduct on the part of anyone.

Mr. Albert Hutzler was here Tuesday for a short visit. He returned to San Antonio Wednesday.

FIDELIS CLASS.

The Fidelis Class of the Methodist Church was delightfully entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. Tom Stanley and Mrs. Alfred Schweers at the home of the former. After a short business meeting, several games of "42" were enjoyed by the members and guests.

Delicious refreshments of fruit pie with whipped cream and spiced tea, were served to the following: Mesdames H. J. Meyer, Elmer Leinweber, Roland Chancey, Alfred Brucks,
Charley Monkhouse, Theo. Cameron, Walter McClagherty, Earl Boon, Earnest Bohlen and Misses Lora
King, Lucille Woods, Irene Schweers,

J. H. Walker Has Record Unique In History of Texas Government

Works Way Through Every Office Job
to the Top

J. H. WALKER

BUT one man, according to the history of Texas, has worked his way through every desk from the bottom to the top of a major state department. That one man is J. H. Walker, who one year ago became Commissioner of the Land Office by appointment, succeeding the lamented J. T. Robison, under whom he served as Chief Clerk for twenty years.

J. H. Walker is a native of Johnson County but his legal home is Hill County. He entered the Land Office thirty-one years ago, but the last two years of Governor Sayers' administration he was Chief Clerk of the Comptroller's office, and during Governor Lanham's administration he was Assistant Financial Agent of the State Penitentiaries. His service in the Land Office covers twenty-five years.

For some years Mr. Walker lived in the Abilene country and has first-hand knowledge of the conditions in the West, as well as all other parts of the state.

He became Commissioner with an experience unparalleled in the history of this state, and with an unexcelled knowledge of original Spanish grants gained through his work as translator in the land office.

He is a candidate for election and the question before the people is whether the rule of promotion shall be sustained. His platform is administration of the law to the best interest of the state and with fairness to those dealing with it.

COLONIAL AMUSEMENT LINK NEARS COMPLETION.

Work on the Colonial golf links is nearing completion and in all probability will reach its completion not later than Saturday. The contractors and management have been pushing the work on what will be, in all likelihood the most difficult 18 hole course between San Antonio and El Paso. A very attractive color scheme of orange and green has been carried out on the new course.

It has been mentioned that players, especially ladies, should wear comfortable garb for golf—particularly foot wear. High heel shoes are very unsatisfactory and at the same time a disadvantage to players and the fairways. It might be mentioned that light colored or the more expensive shoes are subject to pick up the coloring from the fairways and hazards. As mentioned above the course is the most difficult in the country and a player should dress as comfortable as possible to get the full pleasure of playing this hazardous course.

Many plans are being formulated for the benefit of the players by the management. Included among which are Amateur Tournaments, Low Score Matches, Out-of-Town Guest Tournaments and other attractions.

The course boasts long fairways, some of which are more than a hundred feet long and many novel hazards. Special tee mats have been arranged for each hole. Many miniature golf proprietors have inspected the Colonial's course and commented very highly on the entire layout.

The playing rules for the Colonial Link are adopted from the United States Golf Association and allow the ball to be placed only one club head's length from the side rails of the fairways.

HONORING MISS DORA SAAT- HCFF.

Friday afternoon, July 11, at 3 o'clock Mrs. Herman Vogel, Mrs. Otis Laughinghouse, Mrs. Wilfred Zerr and Miss Anna Nehr honored Miss Dora Saathoff with a miscellaneous shower at the Hondo Lions Club hall.
The hall was artistically decorated with a color scheme of yellow and white. Beautiful baskets of shasta daisies were placed around a white throne.

Miss Saathoff entered to the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," played by Miss Leora Horger. Miss Saathoff was led to her throne by the little Misses Jermaine Stiegler and Dorothy Ann Chaney of San Antonio.

Miss Rosa Senne sang "All for You" and Mrs. F. H. Schweers gave a toast to the bride-to-be. The gifts were then brought to Miss Saathoff by her little attendants. After everyone had admired the gifts, delicious refreshments were served to about seventy guests.

LIONS AND SUNDAY BUSINESS.

No, the Lions Club has not decided to use the "club" to close business houses on Sunday, but they did discuss the situation as it exists in Hondo today. They seemed to be unanimous in their opinion that everything in the power of Hondo's citizens should be done to preserve unto Hondo people the day of rest. They, therefore, do not look with favor upon any individual or corporation, local or foreign, whose policy denies this privilege to employees, and, indirectly, forces other Hondo people to follow their policy and practice.
This matter was not considered from a religious viewpoint, but from a purely business and humanitarian viewpoint. Man needs one day of rest in seven. Hondo Lions would like to have this physiological law to operate in Hondo for the welfare of its citizens, and, therefore, appeals to all concerned to work concertedly for the abolition of all unnecessary Sunday business and work.

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned would hereby sincerely thank all relatives, friends and neighbors for the kind service rendered, for the sympathetic and comforting words spoken and for the flowers brought to the funeral of our beloved father, John Houser. We would especially thank Rev. E. P.
Hasskarl for the comforting words spoken at the burial Sunday.

Sincerely,

MR. and MRS. DAVID N. BUR-NETT and SON.

TOURNAMENT ON AT HONDO MINIATURE GOLF COURSE.

The Hondo Miniature Golf Course is the scene of a big cash prize golf tournament. The contest opened last Saturday and is running until Wednesday, July 23. It is an open tournament with all invited to enter and enjoy the fun. Players may enter any time, up to and including the last day of the contest. A very attractive group of prizes are being offered to the players with first prize $5 in cash, second $4, third $3, fourth $2.50 with fifth and sixth places being one week's free play.

Ladies Only Contest

An added attraction of the tournament is the ladies' only contest which carries with it awards for the six ladies turning in the best scores.
First prize to the ladies is $3.50 in cash, second $3, third $2.50, while fourth, fifth and sixth place each win one week's free play.

The management has adopted the policy of giving one free game with each two games played in succession.
The plan is meeting with favor as a method of furnishing a two out of three game match for players who like to play match series.

Still another attraction of the course is the awarding of the rest of the week in free play to all shooting below par, which is 46. Anyone traversing the course in less than 46 strokes will get to play the remainder of the week free.

JOHN HOUSER DEAD.

Last Saturday at about 4 P. M., John Houser died in his farm-home several miles south of Quihi. Mr.
Houser had been in bad health for quite a long time. During this time he received excellent medical attention and was tenderly nursed and cared for by Mr. and Mrs. David Burnett and friends and neighbors.
But it was to no avail; his course was run and he had to answer the final roll-call, having attained the age of 67 years, 9 months and 27 days.

The largely attended funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and was conducted by Rev.
C. P. Hasskarl of the Quihi Lutheran Church. Burial was had in the new Quihi cemetery.

From the brief biography of the dead as read at the grave, the following data relative to him was gathered. John Houser was born of Christian parents at Aldingen, Kingdom of Wuerttemberg, Germany, September 10, 1862, and was baptized, confirmed and raised in the Christian faith.

He remained in his native home and country till he was 27 years old and then migrated to America in 1885.
Here he located at Quihi and farmed and for some time worked as a wheelwright. On July 4, 1892, he was united in marriage with Miss Ottila Schorobiny, who faithfully shared with him for 29 years the weal and woe of his life and finally preceded him in death February 4, 1921. Aside from a number of close friends and neighbors, Mr. Houser is survived by his adopted daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. David N. Burnett, with whom he made his home since the death of his wife, by his brother, Jacob Houser of San Antonio; Mrs.
Paul Oefinger, Dunlay and Mrs. John Morris of El Paso.

DISCRIMINATIONS AGAINST INDUSTRY.

Tax authorities in Brazoria County last week placed a valuation upon industrial properties which exceeded by $4,000,000 the valuation placed on similar properties in Wharton County by officials of the latter county. Oddly enough, the Wharton County properties are generally conceded to be much more valuable than those in Brazoria County.

Without any reference to the controversies which have been waged in each of the counties mentioned, and without regard to the merit or lack of merit in contentions of the interested parties, there is evidenced here a weakness in the state's system of taxation which is certain to militate against that industrial growth and development so necessary to the state's best interests.

Where there is no uniform system to taxation, and where no protection against spending organs of local tax bodies is afforded industry, it is only reasonable to assume that industrialists will exercise the utmost caution in entering the State of Texas.

In this connection that Fort Worth Star-Telegram recently said: "Until we have a great many more factories in Texas and a great many more businesses of all sorts, it is criminal folly to talk of increasing the taxes on industry. Such an increase would have the effect of retarding the development of the state by keeping out capital that is so badly needed, crippling the growth of industry and business now in the state and laying a penalty thereby upon all classes and all taxpayers. Texas, about all states, needs to encourage industry and development, not retard them."

Where county tax officials evidence a disposition to discriminate against industry, imposing upon them tax burdens which violate every principle of equity and uniformity, there should be some method by which the state might intervene.

If Texas desires to achieve the destiny promised by its industrial possibilities, some such supervisory power should be given it through necessary legal channels.

There is no question but that the eyes of industry are upon Texas. That being true, the attitude of county, as well as state, governments assumes proportions of the highest importance.

CAMP BUILDING PROGRAM ENTIRELY REARRANGED.

Work on the permanent buildings at the camp site is progressing, and we expect to have quite a few improvements made by the time that camp opens on August the 4th. The floor of the kitchen and mess hall is being laid out Monday of this week and the walls will go up in a short time.

The arrangement of the mess hall and kitchen and the tents is entirely different from what it was last year. They will be located near the edge of the foot hills, instead of near the river as they were last year.

A gasoline engine has been installed and is pumping a stream of clear, pure water, which cannot be contaminated since the curbing to the well has been put in.

The new sanitary system will be installed the latter part of the week. In fact, the camp this summer will be entirely different from what it was last summer, since so many improvements have been made. And what makes it even more interesting is the fact that we, the boys and girls of Southwest Texas, actually own this beautiful camp site, and we can add permanent improvements from year to year.

Scouts, are you saving your camp fee now? Aren't you thrilling over the prospect of another eight days in camp this year? The fee will be only $1.00 per day, or $8.00 for the eight days.

How many of you Scouts remember Chief Red Eagle, who was with us in two summer camps? Well, we have had a letter from him, saying that he is with the Apache Indians

A THOUGHT FOR SUNDAY

by AMOS R. WELLS. ROUNDED CORNERS FOR AUTOMOBILES.

Berlin has been experimenting in the rounding of street corners, and has found it to be a great improvement. When corners are left square, automobiles can not make the turn without running out to or beyond the middle of the street; but with round corners they can turn close to the curb, thus avoiding the danger of collisions and speeding up the traffic accordingly. Berlin is now rounding off all corners in the city, as far as practicable.

There is a lesson for all of us in the cities of our souls. Too many of us have built ourselves angular minds. We need to round off the corners of our opinions, our prejudices, our preferences. We should make it easier for other folks to live with us.

It is far less trouble to lay out a city or a life in rectangles, with square corners. A straight line is more readily drawn than a curve. We naturally proceed along the path of sameness. We do not naturally bend aside, out of the way of others. But round corners are the Christian way. "Let us search and try our ways." Head LAMENTATIONS 3: 40-54. (Copyrighted by Christian Herald.)

at Mescalera, New Mexico, for two weeks for the annual ceremonial and feast of that tribe of Indians, and that he will let us know definitely at the end of the two weeks whether he can be with us at camp, but we are pretty sure that he will be there. Those of you who know Chief Red Eagle know what is in store for you. Chief White Boy Lenman, who was with us last summer, has written us asking to be allowed to spend the camp period with us again this year. The camp folder, explaining all about camp will be mailed to each boy in the Area soon, so begin to make your plans immediately. It won't be long now! Scout Headquarters.

The Awful Truth
"You look fed up, old man."
"Yes, I've had a tiring day. That little beast of an office-boy of mine came to me with the old gag about getting off for his grandmother's funeral, so just to teach him a lesson I said I would accompany him."
"Ah, not so bad; was it a good game?"
"No, it was his grandmother's funeral!"—The Passing Show (London).

That Party Line.
"That is Mrs. Higgins's receiver that has just come down." Mr. Brown told his brother over the wire. "I could feel the tick of her grandfather clock among a thousand."
"You're wrong for once, smarty!" a female voice broke in triumphantly. "That clock of ours has been stopped for over a week."—Exchange.

WHAT THE STERLING PLAN MEANS.

More than two hundred counties in Texas have issued bonds to build State highways, according to a statement issued by the State Highway Department. These bonds constitute a burden on the property of the citizens of the counties—on the farms, ranches, homes and other property. But the chief traffic over the roads is State traffic, including the motor buses and heavy freight trucks.

In 140 counties the tax rate to take care of these bonds alone is more than 15 cents on the $100 valuation. In 84 counties the rate is more than 30 cents, or more than the State ad valorem tax for the general fund. In 16 counties it is 70 cents or more, which is a higher rate than that State rate for all purposes this year. In seven counties it is more than $1.00.

Aside from the fact that these rates are glaringly inequitable among the counties, property should not have to bear this burden at all. The traffic over the highways should bear it. And the Sterling plan proposes to transfer this burden from the farms, ranches, homes and other property of the people to the traffic. By bonding the gasoline taxes adequate funds can be provided to carry forward an adequate construction program without further county aid, and to take over the obligation of retiring the county bonds and paying the interest on them, instead of permitting this obligation to continue to rest on the property owners.

The Sterling plan contemplates that the people shall be given the opportunity to vote on this question. It does not involve any increase of the gasoline tax, but it will reduce road taxes in practically every county in the State.—Texas Weekly.

Under The Sterling Plan Taxes Will Be Reduced In Medina County

THE TAXPAYERS OF MEDINA COUNTY, INCLUDING THE FARMERS, HOME-OWNERS AND BUSINESS MEN ARE NOW ASSESSED AN AVERAGE TAX OF APPROXIMATELY 30 CENTS ON THE $100.00 VALUATION TO PAY FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF STATE HIGHWAYS, A TAX THAT SHOULD BE BORNE BY THE STATE.

UNDER THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN THE STATE WILL ASSUME THIS OBLIGATION AND PAY FOR IT OUT OF THE GASOLINE TAX.

THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN WILL PLACE THE BURDEN OF PAYING FOR STATE ROADS YOUR COUNTY HAS BUILT ON THE TRAFFIC, WHERE IT BELONGS.

THE STERLING PLAN WILL PROVIDE THE STATE WITH ADEQUATE FUNDS TO BUILD A CONNECTED STATE SYSTEM OF HARD SURFACED, ALL-WEATHER HIGHWAYS AND FOR PAVING THE GAPS OVER THE STATE WITHOUT COUNTY AID AND WITHOUT INCREASING THE GASOLINE TAX ONE PENNY.

THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN PROVIDES THAT NO PROPERTY TAX SHALL EVER BE LEVIED TO CARRY OUT ITS PURPOSES.

Explanatory Note.—The estimated reduction in the tax rate has been calculated in accordance with the best available information. The exact figure will depend upon varying conditions in each county. But that a material reduction of the ad valorem taxes would be affected under the plan is certain.

ZEN of the Y. D.

of Novel of the Foothills

By ROBERT STEAD

Author of "The Cow Puncher"—"The Homesteaders"—"Neighbors," etc.

Y.D. had not thought he could become so worked up over a simple matter like a wedding. Time had dulled the edge of memory, but even after making allowances he could not recall that his marriage to Jessie Wilson had been such an event in his life as this. It did not at least reflect so much glory upon him personally. He basked in the reflected glow of his daughter's beauty and popularity as happily as the big cat lying on the sunny side of the bunk-house. He found all sorts of excuses for invading where his presence was little wanted while Zen's story was being displayed for admiration. Y.D. always pretended that such invasions were quite accidental, and affected a fine indifference to all this "women's fuss an' feathers," but his affections deceived at least none of the older visitors.

As the great day approached Y.D.'s wife shot a bomb-shell at him. "What do you propose to wear for Zen's wedding?" she demanded.

"What's the matter with the suit I go to town in?"

"Y.D.," said his wife, kindly, "there are certain little touches which you overlook. Your town suit is all right for selling steers, although I won't say that it hasn't outlived its prime even for that. To attend Zen's wedding it is hardly the thing."

"It's been a good suit," he protested. "It is—"

"It has. It is also a venerable suit. But really, Y.D., it will not do for this occasion. You must get yourself a new suit, and a white shirt—"

"What do I want with a white shirt?"

"It has to be," his wife insisted. "You'll have to deck yourself out in a new suit and a white shirt and collar."

Y.D. stamped around the room, and in a moment slipped out. "All fool nonsense," he confided to himself, on his way to the bunk-house. "It's all right for Zen to have good clothes—didn't I tell her to go the limit?—but as for me, I ain't me that's gettin' married, is it? Standin' up before all them cow punchers in a white shirt!"

The bitterness of such disgrace cut the old rancher no less keenly than the physical discomfort which he forecast for himself, yet he put his own desires sufficiently to one side to buy a suit of clothes, and a white shirt and collar, when he was next in town.

It must not be supposed that Y.D. admitted to the salesman that he personally was descending to any such gear.

"A suit for a fellow about my size," he explained. "He's visitin' out at the ranch, an' he hefts about the same as me. Put in one of them Hereford shirts an' a collar."

Y.D. tucked the package surreptitiously in his room and awaited the day of Zen's marriage with mingled emotions.

Zen, yielding to Transley's importunities, had at last said that it should be Christmas day. The wedding would be in the house, with the leading ranchers and farmers of the district as invited guests, and the general understanding was to be given out that the countryside as a whole would be welcome. All could not be taken care of in the house, so Y.D. gave orders that the hay was to be cleared out of one of the barns and the floor put in shape for dancing. Open house would be held in the barn and in the bunk-house, where substantial refreshments would be served to all and sundry.

Christmas day dawned with a seasonable nip to the air, but the sun rose warm and bright. As the hour approached Zen found herself possessed of a calmness which she deemed worthy of Y.D.'s daughter. She had elected to be unattended as she had no very special girl friend, and that seemed the simplest way out of the problem of selecting someone for this honor. She was, however, amply assisted with her dressing, and the color of her fine cheeks burned deeper with the compliments to which she listened with modest appreciation.

At a quarter to the hour it was discovered that Y.D. had not yet dressed for the occasion. He was, in fact, engaged with Landson in making a tentative arrangement for the distribution of next year's hay. Zen had been so insistent upon an invitation being sent to Mr. and Mrs. Landson, that Y.D., although fearing a snub for his pains, at last conceded the point. He had done his neighbor better less than justice, and now he and Landson, with the assistance of a well-filled stone jug, were burying the hatchet in a corner of the bunk-house.

"Bang this dressin'," Y.D. remonstrated when a message demanding instant action reached him. "Landson, hear me now! I wouldn't take a million dollars for that girl, y' understand—and I wouldn't trade a money cayuse for another!" So, grumbling, he found his way to his room and began a wrestle with his "store" clothes. Before the fight was over he was being reminded through the door that he wasn't roping. "Store" and everybody was waiting. At the last moment he discovered that he had neglected to buy shoes. There was nothing for it but his long ranch boots, so on they went. He sought Zen in her room. "Will I do in this?" he asked, feeling very sheepish.

Zen could have laughed, or she could have cried, but she did neither. She sensed in some way the fact that to her father this experience was a positive ordeal. So she just slipped her arm through his and whispered: "Of course you'll do, you silly old duffer," and tripped down the stairs by the side of his ponderous steps.

After the ceremony the elder people sat down to dinner in the house, and the others in the bunk-house. Zen was radiant and calm; Transley handsome, delighted, self-possessed. His good luck was the subject of many a comment, both inside and out of the old house. He accepted it at its full value, and yet as one who has a right to expect that luck will play him some favors.

Suddenly there was a rush from outside, and Zen found herself being carried bodily away. The young people had decided that the dancing could wait no longer, so a half dozen hustlers had been deputed to kidnap the bride and carry her to the barn, where the fiddles were already strumming. Zen insisted that the first dance must belong to Transley, but after that she danced with the young ranchers and cowboys with strict impartiality. And even as she danced she found herself wondering if, among all this representation of the countryside, that one upon whom her thoughts had turned so much should be missing. She found herself watching the door. Surely it would have been only a decent respect to her—surely he might have helped to whirl her joyously away into the new life in which the past had to be forgotten. . . . How much better that they should part that way, than with the memories they had!

But Dennison Grant did not appear. Evidently he preferred to keep his memories.

When at last the night had worn thin and it was time for the bridal couple to leave if they were to catch the morning train in town, and they had ridden down the foothill trails to the thunder of many accompanying hoof-beats, the old ranch became suddenly a place very quiet and still and alone. Y.D. sat down in the corner of the big room by the fire, and saw strange pictures in its dying embers. Zen . . . Zen! Transley was a good fellow, but how much a man will take with scarce a thank-you! . . . Presently Y.D. became aware of a hand resting upon his shoulder, and tingling from its fingertips came something akin to the almost forgotten rapture of a day long gone. He raised his great palm and took that slowly aging hand, once round and fresh like Zen's, in his. Together they watched the fire die out in the silence of their empty house. . . .

CHAPTER X

Grant occupied himself with the work of the ranch that winter, spring and summer. Occasional news of Mrs. Transley filtered through; she was too prominent a character in that countryside to be lost track of in a season. But anything which reached Grant came through accidental channels: he sought no information of her, and turned a deaf ear, almost, to what he heard. Then in the fall came an incident which immediately changed the course of his career.

It came in the form of an important-looking letter with an Eastern postmark. It had been delivered with other mail at the house, and Landson himself brought it down. Grant read it and at first stared at it somewhat blankly, as one not taking in its full portent.

"Not bad news, I hope?" said his employer, cloying his curiosity in commiseration.

"Rather," Grant admitted, and handed him the letter. Landson read:

"It is our duty to place before you information which must be of a very distressing nature, and which at the same time will have the effect of greatly increasing your responsibilities and opportunities. Unless you have happened to see the brief dispatches which have appeared in the press this letter will doubtless be the first intimation to you that your father and younger brother Roy were the victims of a most regrettable accident while motoring on a brief holiday in the South. The automobile in which they were traveling was struck by a fast train, and both of them received injuries from which they succumbed almost immediately.

"Your father, by his will, left all his property, aside from certain bequests to charity, to his son Roy, but Roy had no will, and as he was unmarried, and as there are no other surviving members of the family except yourself, the entire estate, less the bequests already referred to, descends to you. We have not yet attempted an appraisal, but you will know that the amount is very considerable indeed. In recent years your father's business undertakings were remarkably successful, and we think we may conservatively suggest that the amount of the estate will be very much greater than even you may anticipate.

"The brokerage firm which your father founded is, temporarily, without a head. You have had some experience in your father's office, and as his solicitors for many years, we take the liberty of suggesting that you should immediately assume control of the business. A faithful staff are at present continuing it to the best of their ability, but you will understand that a permanent organization must be effected at as early a date as may be possible.

"Inability to locate you until after somewhat exhaustive inquiries had been made explains the failure to notify you by wire in time to permit of your attending the funeral of your father and brother, which took place in this city on the eighth instant, and was marked by many evidences of respect.

"We beg to tender our very sincere sympathy, and to urge upon you that you so arrange your affairs as to enable you to assume the responsibilities which have, in a sense, been forced upon you, at a very early date. In the meantime we assure you of our earnest attention to your interests.

"Yours sincerely,

FORD FINANCE PLANS MAKE POPULAR APPEAL

Lower Finance Charges of Universal Credit Company Makes It Easier To Own a Ford Car.

Universal Credit Company is now observing its Second Anniversary. This Ford financing organization provides uniform time payment plans at low cost for purchasers of Ford Cars who desire to pay for their transportation as they use it. The approval accorded the UCC Plans by dealers and public has been complete, with the result that millions of dollars have been saved for Ford purchasers through the lower finance charges of the UCC Plans. An estimated saving of approximately $30,000,000 has been made for customers of Ford Dealers during the past two years through the lower time sales charges created by UCC for the benefit of the public.

The organization of Universal Credit Company conforms squarely with the established Ford policy of creating and developing every possible economy for the purchasing public in order that the Ford Car be available to the greatest number of people at the lowest possible cost.

UCC has succeeded in reducing the cost of credit to the purchaser of a Ford Car who chooses to pay for transportation out of income, as this company operates on the basis of a small profit on a large volume of business. This reduction in the cost of credit is also aided by the many economies that arise from the operation of an exclusively "Ford" plan on the basis of nation-wide volume and with a credit organization restricting its business dealings to Ford dealers and Ford products. Simple forms and a uniformity of procedure contribute toward these credit economies.

In Universal Credit Company the cost of credit is considered to be just as important as the cost of the material that becomes a part of the automobile. Credit is a commodity that is important to a high percentage of purchasers. The amount of the finance charge influences the Time Delivered Price of the car. Consequently, the lower finance charges of UCC actually result in a price reduction on Ford Cars.

Universal Credit Company now has thirty-two Branch Offices established throughout the Country and employs nearly two thousand people. The company has successfully handled a volume of business in excess of $425,000,000 and has passed on important economies to nearly 800,000 time purchasers of Ford Cars who secured the advantages of these Authorized Ford Finance Plans during the last two years.

The UCC organization is vitally interested in the important question of creating additional good-will for the Ford dealer and the Ford product with resulting courteous, quick and confidential credit service for the customer. A standard fire and theft insurance policy for one year is issued time purchasers and the cost is included in the terms of the UCC Plans.

The social side of finance company operation should not be overlooked. In Universal Credit Company the management are always aiming at lower cost and broader markets with high standards for this specialized banking field. Through lower financing costs the use of motor cars is made available to a wider cross section of society. The result is comfort and convenience with economy uppermost in mind. The development of suburban areas has been aided by consumer credit as applied to motor cars, making for less crowded cities and insuring to a greater number of families the healthful surroundings of the countryside.

The Branch Offices of the UCC organization are established in the following cities:

Atlanta, Boston, Buffalo, Charlotte, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dallas, Detroit, Fargo, Grand Rapids, Houston, Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Little Rock, Louisville, Memphis, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, New Orleans, Norfolk, Oklahoma, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Springfield, Mass., St. Louis, Washington, D. C., Mexico City, Mexico.

The convenient terms and low cost feature of UCC Plans are available to Ford purchasers at the McElroy Motor Company, Hondo, Texas, who are the Authorized Ford Dealers in this community.

Ed Ingram, one of our most successful farmers, says he has found one of the finest poultry tonics ever discovered in feeding new crop Hegari to his hens. Since beginning to feed them on this new crop he says he can't build nests for them fast enough to accommodate them in their eagerness to lay, and it is keeping him in a sweat to follow them around with a basket to pick up the eggs that are being deposited just any old place. If they keep up the present rate it is going to be a race to see whether the Hegari plays out or he runs out of sweat first!

A petition is being circulated asking the Gulf Refining Company to join in the agreement that has prevailed here for some time among garage men to close all garages on Sundays and legal holidays except one and each garage to take its regular turn in keeping open on these days. The plan was working satisfactorily until the Gulf people gave orders for their two new stations to remain open every day, and the agreement is in danger of falling through and all of them remaining open and without business enough on those days to profit any.

Word has been received from Miss Octavia Davis, who is Art Director and Assistant Councilor at Miss A. C. Lucchese's Camp for Girls near Comstock. KONJOLA PUT KANSAS MAN BACK TO WORK.

"Proved To Be a Wonderful Medicine In My Case," Says Former Sufferer.

MR. H. C. SHERMAN.

Any medicine that can win more than a million friends in seven years must have merit, and that is exactly what Konjola has done. You wonder why Konjola has become a household word? Well, read what Mr. H. C. Sherman, painting contractor, of Goddard, Kansas, says:

"Konjola proved to be a wonderful medicine in my case. Last July I was hurt in an automobile accident, and was in the hospital many weeks. When I got out, I was in a badly run down condition; had rheumatism in the shoulder, arm and hand, and my stomach was out of order. I suffered terrible pains, and medicines did me no good. The many endorsements of Konjola led me to try it, and six bottles of this wonderful medicine made me able to resume my work. I am feeling better in every way than for a long time."

Konjola's 32 ingredients work together, battling at their very source, the causes of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Hondo, Texas, at W. H. Windrow's drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

HONDO, TEXAS, JULY 18, 1930
MODERNIZING TEXAS' LEGAL MACHINERY.

The Committee on Remedial Procedure and Law Reform recently recommended to the Texas Bar Association certain changes in the law of criminal procedure which Texas Editors think would speed justice, save state thousands upon thousands of dollars, and go far in restoring confidence in the integrity of courts.

The committee recommended that preliminary pleas in capital cases be made at or before the time the case is set and the venire ordered. Among the preliminary pleas are included pleas to quash and to change venue. Other committee recommendations included these: That jury selection upon a defendant's failure to testify in his own behalf no longer constitute reversible error; that incompetent matters, names and places to be changed; that the identity of the defendant would not be changed; that jurors, rather than attorneys, qualify for jury duty; that a man may be tried the same time for two offenses arising out of the same transaction, instead of having two or more separate trials as is now required by law; that cases may no longer be reversed on harmless error which in no way has injured the defendant.

Upon the whole, in fact almost without exception, Texas editors heartily endorsed these proposed changes.
In no way violate that fundamental philosophy of the law which places the burden of proof upon the accuser and assures to a defendant every advantage in the conduct of his case. They do, on the other hand, regard obsolete and antiquated provisions which needlessly prolong criminal prosecutions and put the taxpayers of the state to tremendous, unnecessary expense.

Unfortunately, however, any action taken by the Bar Association with respect to these and other suggested changes in the law of criminal procedure would not be final. The legislature first must enact them into law.
It is here that editors anticipate defiance and disappointment.

At the next session of the legislature these and other important changes in the Criminal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure will be submitted. One Texas editor gloomily repeats that "when they are presented to our sterling representatives, they will be buried in a grave of legislative indifference, with talk about evolution, Tammany Hall, the price of peas in Liberia and everything else which does not pertain to good government."

Another editor, however, contends that "Public opinion and newspaper influence will sooner or later force radical change in court procedure." In the meantime voters and taxpayers of the state have six months which to impress upon their representatives at Austin the fact that needless waste of time and money must be stopped. After all, if the people speak emphatically enough legislators will refuse to listen.

DON'T FLIRT WITH A COLD.

A "little cold" is a dangerous thing. You may neglect one, two or three of them, but sooner or later one of them has gotten the better of you.

One of the most important things you can do, both to prevent and to cure colds, is to take action against acidosis—which merely means that the body is less alkaline than it should be.

At the first sign of a cold, go home quickly as possible. Take a hot bath and get into a warm bed at once. Then drink a full glass of hot lemonade. The "sweat-out" that follows will eliminate poisons. In the morning, pour the juice of one lemon into a half-glass of water. Stir in a teaspoon of baking soda. Drink while it effervesces. Repeat three times a day until all cold symptoms disappear. Also, see your doctor before colds become serious.

Scatter Your Risk
It has been taught, and many believed,
Much human want could be relieved
If all the farmers only knew.
How to raise two blades where but one grew.
But it seems the farmer plays bad bets,
The more he raises the less he gets;
For the word goes out there is a big crop.
Then the market begins to drop and drop.
The HONDO STATE BANK would like to impress:
By diversification your risk is less.
